Notice.

The public are hereby informed that a Company has been formed under the title of THE QUANTICO WAREHOUSE COMPANY, who have erected, one mile below the town of Dumfries, a large and convenient Warehouse on Quantico creek, for the storage of flour, grain, etc. which warehouse will be ready for the reception of produce on Monday the third of Feb. next. The trustees of said Company have appointed Zebulon Kankey their Agent, to attend the said Warehouse, to receive produce on storage and grant receipts for the same. And for the prompt delivery of all articles received in the said warehouse by their agent, (fire alone excepted) the Company hold themselves bound. All persons depositing flour, grain, etc. must pay, before taken away, the following storage, viz. For each barrel of flour 6 cents; if it remains in said warehouse one month 8 cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. For each bushel of wheat or other grain two cents; if it remains over one month three cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. And for all articles of merchandise a reasonable storage only will be demanded. Persons storing flour may have it inspected, or not, at their option. If not inspected, the agent's receipt will specify the brand and the state of the barrels. The weight of one bushel wheat, running measure of each load or parcel of wheat. All articles stored, the same to be returned to the owner when called for, be it flour, wheat, other grain, etc. Customary allowances for wastage, etc. excepted.

Quantico Warehouse is situated on Quantico Creek, only two miles from its junction with the Potomac river, at all times navigable for lighters. There are belonging to this creek a sufficient number of lighters to ensure a brisk transportation down the creek of all articles stored. Vessels may be got to take produce to the district of Columbia, Baltimore, Norfolk, or elsewhere. The present freights are—To the district twelve and half cents per barrel of flour, and to Baltimore and Norfolk 25 cents from the mouth of Quantico. The proximity of this warehouse to a large extent of country, added to the goodness of roads leading to it from the westward being little inferior to paved ones. It being found by actual survey little more than 25 miles from Hay Market to Dumfries, will, it is confidently believed by the trustees, by this route greatly lessen the expense of transportation of produce even to the district of Columbia, and they pledge themselves to the public to use every means within their power to give satisfaction.

Virginia Legislature.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

On Thursday, two propositions were adopted by the H. of D. of an interesting character, one of them relates directly to the call of the Convention & the other is supposed by many to have an important bearing upon the same measure.

The last was brought forward at a very early period of Thursday's session, by Mr. Blackburn viz. to grant leave to bring in a bill "to make a new arrangement of the counties into districts for the election of Senators, and for equalizing the land tax." This motion was opposed by Messrs. Doddridge, Colston, Gray, &c. and supported by Messrs. Blackburn, Mercer, of L. Harrison and Tazewell.—The discussion took a wide range. Whether the Legislature had the constitutional power to reorganize the Senate? Whether the act of '76, organizing the Senate, was passed by the Legislature in its ordinary capacity, or as a convention; and whether the act of '92 made any other change in that of '76, than to change the members of the counties in each senatorial district, still preserving the same territorial basis? and whether it might not be calculated to defeat the call of a Convention? Messrs. Blackburn and Tazewell particularly insisting that there would be no occasion for a Convention, if the Senate and the Land tax were equalized, the inequalities of both being the principal evils complained of, and these two gentlemen frankly admitting that they wished in that way to supercede the call of a convention

Finally, the question was put, and the motion prevailed, ayes 115, noes 38. And the following gentlemen appointed the select committee to bring in the bill, viz.

Messrs. Blackburn, Mercer, of L. Colston, Harrison, of P. George, Tazewell, Crawford, Chamberlaine, Smyth, of Wythe, Cook, of Botetourt, Williams, Martin, Mercer, of S. Baster, Barrette, Steinbergen, J Thompson, of Tazewell, Robertson, of Petersburg, Jones, of Gloucester, Wilson, of Northampton, Hay, Talaferro, Garnet and Bowyer of Rockbridge.

The House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the Convention Bill, when the other proposition was adopted to which we referred. Several amendments were adopted, most of them at the instance of Mr. Tazewell, the most material of which are the two following, which, it is obvious, go to change the character of the Convention from a limited to an unlimited one (Mr. T. saying, that it would be impossible to prevent their acting as an unlimited Convention, and therefore it was better to lay that question at once fairly before the people.) He therefore proposed to strike out from the following preamble to the bill, the words inclosed in brackets:

"Whereas it is represented to the present General Assembly, that a large portion of the good people of this commonwealth, are desirous of amending the constitution of the state [in such manner as to secure an equal representation of the free white people thereof, in the Senate and House of Delegates; to equalize taxation throughout the common wealth; to extend the right of suffrage to all such free male white citizens of twenty one years of age and upwards as have sufficient evidence of permanent common interest with, and attachment to the community; and to provide for such future amendments in the constitution of the State, as experience shall suggest to be necessary:] And this Legislature deeming it their duty to ascertain whether this be the sense of a majority of the freeholders within the commonwealth:"

Much brilliant discussion ensued upon this motion, which finally prevailed, ayes 78, noes 59.

This motion was followed up by a motion of Mr. Tazewell's to strike out from the 1st section, the words enclosed in brackets, viz.

"Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly, That the several sheriffs and other officers, authorised to conduct elections within this commonwealth, shall under the penalty of dollars, at the time and place of holding their respective general annual elections in the ensuing spring, open upon their poll books the additional columns, the one to be overwritten with the words, "A Convention [to equalize the representation of the free white people of this state in both houses of the General Assembly: to equalize taxation: to extend the right of suffrage to all persons having sufficient evidence of a permanent common interest with, and attachment to the community and to provide for such future amendments in the constitution of state as experience shall suggest to be necessary:"] the other to be overwritten with the words "No Convention; and every citizen of this commonwealth qualified by existing laws to exercise the right of suffrage at the ensuing general annual election, is hereby requested to give his vote on the question of calling a Convention for the purposes aforesaid, or against such convention."

Carried without division.

Mr. Tazewell then proposed to amend the bill, so as, instead of allowing as many delegates to the convention for every thousand of the "free white people in each congressional district," to allow two members from each congressional district—lost—ayes 63, noes 72.

On motion of Mr. Matthews, the words being native citizens of the U. States," to define the character of the delegates, were introduced into the 2d section, ayes 70. noes 66.

The same gentleman moved to allow $5 a day as the compensation for each delegate, lost.

On motion of Mr. Tazewell, the bill was so changed as instead of having the election on the same day throughout the commonwealth, it would make the election in each county, &c. on the court day of the same.

The bill being gone through, the committee rose, and the house adjourned.

In the course of this day's proceedings, Mr. Scott from the Committee of schools and Colleges reported a bill, for organizing the primary schools, out of funds contributed by the literary fund,—of this interesting bill, we shall give a sketch in our next.

Yesterday, the house of delegates took up the amendments agreed upon in committee on the convention bill.

The 1st amendment, to strike the words inclosed in brackets, (as above,) from the preamble, was concurred in, ayes 68, noes 55.

The 2d amendment, viz. to strike out the words inclosed in brackets, from the 1st section, was opposed by Messrs. Mercer and Smyth & lost, ayes 57, noes 78, thus limiting the objects of the convention

The amendment to admit none but 'native citizens' into the convention, was then taken up. Mr Smyth moved to strike out these words, and substitute 'natural born citizens,' the meaning of which had been defined by our laws. Mr. Doddridge proposed to add after the words 'native citizens,' the following: 'Or other citizens of this state naturalized according to the laws of this state or of any other of the said states then in force, at any time before the ratification of the definitive treaty of peace between these States and the king of Great Britain in the year 1783.'

The question being put upon Mr. D's. amendment, was carried ayes 84, noes 63. The question was then put on the amendment as amended Mr. Hay suggested a doubt, growing out of the constitution of the United States, respecting excluding naturalized citizens. The question was then put on the whole amendment; it was lost, by ayes and noes ayes 57, noes 89.

Mr. Mercer proposed an amendment, which goes to exclude every delegate from the convention, who does not take an oath which among other things binds him to attempt no other amendments than such as are specified in the restrictions of this act. Mr. Scott contended, that they had no right to bind a delegate not to obey the instructions of his constituents. Messrs. Mercer and Smyth contended that the people had no right to determine whether they would have a limited convention, and if they did, it became their act, not that of the legislature. The amendment was carried, ayes 81, noes 67

Mr. Clarke (of Powhatan,) then moved an amendment, which goes to provide, that after the Convention had acted upon the Constitution, their proposed amendt should be again referred to the People for their consent, and that their votes should be taken upon the proposed changes.

Mr. Tazewell said, if any thing could reconcile him to a Convention, this amendment would—this would enable the people to pass upon these two propositions: 1st. whether they would have any change at all; and 2nd whether they would prefer the constitution proposed by the convention or the present one.

Mr. Mercer asked, did he understand the gentlemen from Norfolk to say, if this amendment prevailed, he would vote for the bill?

Mr. Tazewell said, he could not vote for the convention at all, because he did not think the legislature had any power in the case, but he wished it the bill passed, it should be as perfect as possible—the present amendment attained the same object which he himself had had in view in his proposition of a board to revise the constitution: The question was then put and carried, ayes 79, noes 63.

The question then occurred on engrossing the bill and reading it the third time. Mr. Doddridge called for the ayes and noes. The resolution was carried, ayes 85 noes 61.

ALEXANDRIA.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Feb. 4.

The unchartered banks have received their death blow, and in the decision of yesterday the whole system is annihilated, I apprehend, forever. The bills for chartering the unchartered banks of Columbia were on motion of Mr. Lewis brought under the consideration of the committee of the whole, and thrown out, on a motion of indefinite postponement made by Mr. Randolph.

To what amount the District of Columbia may be injured by this unexpected result I am not capable of judging; but I have heard many opinions upon the subject from the most favorable of which I can deduce nothing but sad prognostications, and I heard one gentleman, whose opinion ought to be of very high authority on the occasion, because with a sound & temperate mind well versed from infancy in the history of the place—& possessing a great interest in it, he expressed himself to the effect, that Cockburn with his myrmidons sweeping the whole clear, could not more deeply strike at the growing interests of the District than the decision I speak of. Something of this desponding feeling may certainly be ascribed to the suddenness of this unexpected stroke; but after making every reasonable deduction on that score, enough remains behind to convince me that it will, for a time at least, be a heavy blow to this place. The idea that congress regard the District with no partial eye, has acquired additional strength from this business; yet, speaking from the impressions made upon me by all that passed in the debate, I must say that the District made no part of the circumstances which influenced the majority of the house——it was merely argued as a question touching banking and the currency of the country. The whole may be comprised in a few words said by Mr. Calhoun. "he would not agree to sanction the principle that an unchartered bank which has refused to pay its bills in specie, should ever be chartered."

The deadly opponent to the bill was Mr. Randolph, who, in a long, animated, but discursive speech, threw a multitude of lights upon the abuses of the Rag system, upon the mischievous consequences of it to the pecuniary affairs of individuals, the danger of it to the country at large, and ultimately to its government and public morals; and he drew such a glowing, hateful picture of the abominations of that kind of fungus, upstart, monied aristocracy, which must inevitably be created by such establishments, that the little disposition which lingered in the breasts of the hearers to tolerate the agents in that system for a while and then let them down gently, entirely vanished. That Mr. Randolph did speak with very little reverence of the establishment of this "Ten Mile Square," is certain, but then it was not with reference to the country or the original inhabitants, but to that factitious compound who collect here from all other quarters, to become suiters for government patronage—the political adventurers, as he called them, whom he traced in their succession, from Greenleaf to Henry and Crillon. He took care however to declare that he did not mean all this as imputable to the place or to its native inhabitants, for he was convinced that the evil would be precisely the same if the great fountain of it, the court patronage, the President and the Body of government were placed on the top of the Alleghany mountains. He moved an indefinite postponement of the bill. This was encountered by Mr. Lewis and Mr. Herbert with considerable warmth. Mr. Sheffey, too, though an avowed enemy to the system, deprecated such a mode of getting rid of the bills. The sense of the house, however, was too strong and resolute to be moved by the representations of those gentlemen, and we shall be left to sing a requiem over several of our departed Banks. I never witnessed so much zeal and profound concern in the advocates of any public measure as in Mr. Lewis and Mr. Herbert on this occasion.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 1, 1817.

COTTON SHIPMENTS.

It is a fact, not generally known to the cotton shippers in America, that owing to the high prices for this article in Europe, last year, immense speculations were projected from Britain to the East Indies; and that not less than 120 sail of extra ships, rising 400 tons each, (which tonnage the British law requires, to entitle vessels to go to India,) went round the Cape of Good Hope, for the purpose of bringing home cotton from Calcutta, Bengal and Bombay; and supposing them to carry only a partial cargo of 2000 bales each, the amount of cotton to be brought back by them will be 34,000 bales, weighing on the average, 250 pounds each, or 60,000,000 pounds weight of cotton.

This calculation is independent of what may be brought by the East-India Company's ships, and the extra ships employed in their service—and large as the amount may seem to persons generally unacquainted with the exports from India to Canton and Europe, it is far within the quantity annually exported. And as the European prices held out much greater encouragement than those of Canton, it is presumed the total import from India to Britain this year, will at least be double the amount stated as probable, (forming about one half of the annual crop in India,) which must unquestionably influence the price of this commodity in a very material degree, in the early part of this year's market in Europe. The value of Surat and Bengal cotton, in November last, was 1*s.* 1 1-2*d.* to 1*s.* 6*d.* per pound, in London; and of Georgia Upland' 1*s.* 6*d.* to 1*s.* 8*d.* per pound; which shows, that a considerable proportion of East India cotton approaches very near to that of our growth, in point of quality.

These facts and suggestions are avowedly for the purpose of putting those persons unacquainted with them on their guard; as the high price prevailing with us, is considered unwarrantable and dangerous, by the most experienced and best informed Merchants, under the ruling state of business here and abroad.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store. No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of chint"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hand[illegible] the infant part of our citizens [illegible] likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout asthmatic gout, palsy, lumbagoo, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions) and of unparralled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural, insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent inoxication or any other destructive intemperance the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c
